

Gas Shortage

Garcia's Premier Service Station on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis is out of regular gasoline. The station is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Alden Garcia and Mrs. Garcia told the Echo Wednesday morning that the station ran out of regular Saturday but that a delivery was expected soon. However, Mrs. Garcia said that the station will receive only a certain amount of gasoline each month and it will be up to the individual dealer to decide how the gasoline is to be distributed. Board Awards Road Contract To Breland

L.D. Breland Trucking and Construction Co., of Gulfport has been awarded a contract for road improvement projects in Hancock County totaling $195,180.75.

Breland was low bidder on 14 road projects which will be paid for by revenue sharing funds.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors awarded the contract Monday after receiving only the Breland bid on all 14 roads. Huey Stockstill Inc., of Piquette submitted a bid on only five roads.

Don Breland, president of the firm which also has the contract on repairing the Beach Road, was asked by Beat Five Supervisor James Trivica if progress on the Beach Road project would be affected by the new contract. Breland assured the board that the Beach Road work would continue on schedule.

The Board also took under consideration the certification by the county of matching funds for the extension of Stennis Airport runway. Although the Federal Aviation Administration has allotted $1.2 million for the extension, the county must provide matching funds before the FAA monies can be received. The Board will make a final decision on this matter when they meet again Monday at 10 a.m.

In other Port and Harbor business, supervisors heard from Frank Wheat, manager of Stennis Field Flying Service, who announced that the firm would be leaving Stennis Field when the contract expires in July 1973.

Claiming that the flying service has "been run out", Wheat said that it was the flying service's request that the contract not be renewed. Pointing to recent disagreements between the flying service and TACA airlines over tie-down fees, Wheat told the board that the "Port and Harbor commission is siding with TACA in this matter... and interfering with our right to determine fees".

Board President Alton Kellar took issue with Wheat's remarks and said that the supervisors had supported the flying service even to the point of defying the Port and Harbor Commission. "I feel that you have let the county down... we have done everything we could to help you," Kellar stated.

Trivica then accused the flying service of using the TACA incident as an excuse to leave the airport.

Beat One Supervisor Jerry Ladner attempted to make a motion to replace Dr. Michael Smith as director of the Port and Harbor. When Board Attorney Sam Favre told Ladner that his motion was out of order, Ladner protested the balance of the meeting since his motion wasn't recorded.

In other business, the board: Discussed estimates on heating and air-condition the second floor of the courthouse and air-conditioning a portion of the Valena C. Jones Center. Heard a report from Norton Haas Sr., on recent development of the Pearl River Basin Development District.

Echo Staffers Win National Awards

Three members of The Sea Coast Echo news staff will receive four national awards next month in Dearborn, Mich., in newspaper writing competition sponsored by the National Federation of Press Women.

Staff Writer Adoree J. Shortle will be presented a first place award in the Editorial Division, News Editor Marileen C. Maher and Mrs. Shortle will each receive third place honors in the personal column category, and Long Beach - Pass Christian News Director Susan E. Irby will accept a second place award in display advertising.

The writers in each category were competing with weekly or semi-weekly newspapers throughout the United States with circulations over 5,000.

Mrs. Shortle's editorial entry, "Shame and Sorrow" lamented the automobile death of a young Bay St. Louis child.

The three submitted samples of "Red Beans and Rice", co-written weekly by Miss Maher and Mrs. Shortle, dealt with uses for the beach road, problems of voting and the popularity of football. Miss Irby's display advertisement was designed for Budd's Ltd. Ladies Fashions in Long Beach and featured local women as models.

All three staff members will attend the annual convention of the National Federation of Press Women in Dearborn, June 13-16. Awards will be made at a special presentations banquet concluding the assembly on June 16.

Each Echo reporter won three first place honors in March in competition with the Mississippi Press Women. Those nine entries were automatically submitted for competition nationally. In addition, the staff won five other State awards including two second place and three third place standings.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Bay Senior High will hold summer school registration June 8 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the school library.

There will be a $5,000 purse and all proceeds from the tournament will go to the newly-organized Boys Club of Harrison County. Anyone interested in entering may contact Bob Applewhite, golf pro at Edgewater Club.

KEARNEY ARRESTED

Sheriff's deputies arrested Peter Kearney, 19, 110 South Second St., Tuesday when he was found in possession of a small quantity of marijuana. In a Tuesday night hearing before Justice of the Peace Joe Dobson, Kearney was given a $1,000 fine and sentenced to serve six months in the county jail.

OLA Building Contract Signed

Our Lady's Academy will have a new classroom building addition for next fall to accommodate the full junior senior school program planned for young women of the Bay St. Louis area.

The school, sponsored by Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, will add the 11th grade the scholastic year 1973-74 and the 12th grade the following year, which will complete the junior-senior high school, grades 7 through 12.

Original plans to renovate existing structures were altered when architect's studies showed a complete new facility could be obtained for approximately the same cost, according to Michael Haas, overall chairman.

The modern new brick structure will have over 3,000 square feet of floor space and will architecturally match the new parish rectory and administrative facility constructed following Hurricane Camille. It will consist of three new classrooms, science room, home economics room, and administrative space, complete with air conditioning.

Haas stated that the fund drive to finance the new facilities, which also includes remodeling of St. Joseph's Gymnasium building, is past the halfway mark. Now that the construction project is underway, his committee will shift its emphasis towards securing the remaining pledges for the $25,000 improvement program.

Gregory J. Johnson, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf and principal of OLA; and Michael D. Haas, overall OLA chairman.

If You Can't Be With The
One You Love ... Love
The One You're With

Elections are interesting. Particularly in Hancock County. It's amusing to watch how politicians operate - people whom you haven't seen or spoken to in five years are suddenly acting like long-lost friends or relatives. The handshake and the big smile replace the half-wave and the mumble, at least until after the election.

You get telephone calls from people you don't know asking you to vote for a person you know nothing about. And there's always a variety of literature and those little "calling" cards asking you to please consider voting for your humble servant.

Perhaps the most interesting people to watch, especially in a municipal election, are the city employees. Since Bay St. Louis employees are not protected by civil service, they have as much to lose in this election as the candidates themselves (depending on which candidate or candidates the employee chooses).

You can usually spot city employees during an election because, unlike everyone else, they have no opinions. They don't know who's going to win or lose, or why. When questioned, they smile shyly, shrug their shoulders and walk away.

At least they appear to have no opinions. Actually, the extent of their opinions is matched only by the extent of their fears. Therefore, they learn to remain silent lest they tend to incriminate themselves.

During election periods, city employees usually travel in groups of two and three, engaged in endless conversations, exploring all the possibilities of their futures. Every rumor is studied, discussed, dissected, analyzed, inflated and most unfortunately, repeated to any other city employee who attaches himself to the group. Under such treatment, the rumor becomes a verbal anemone, fragmented into numerous other rumors, each of which bears little resemblance to the original story.

After days spent in such exhausting pursuits, the employee dejectedly goes home, draws the shades, locks the door, and cries a lot.

All of this because the employee fears that after the election he will be an employee no longer. He also knows that he has more to lose than just his job. All his relatives will lose their collective jobs. This means assorted cousins, in-laws and extraneous indefinable connections.

But the most fascinating city employee is the one who, between the primary and the runoff, the runoff and the general election, and the general election and the swearing-in ceremony, has managed to pick a winner and has attached himself to the star's star. All the while appearing to have supported the champion from the very beginning.

He is the one to be admired. He is the one to be praised. Because it is this person who, to paraphrase the Darwinian theory, fits himself to the survivors.

Bay Considers Civil Service

Bay St. Louis city employees may soon come under civil service if a study by City Attorney Gerald Gex shows that Bay St. Louis is eligible under state law.

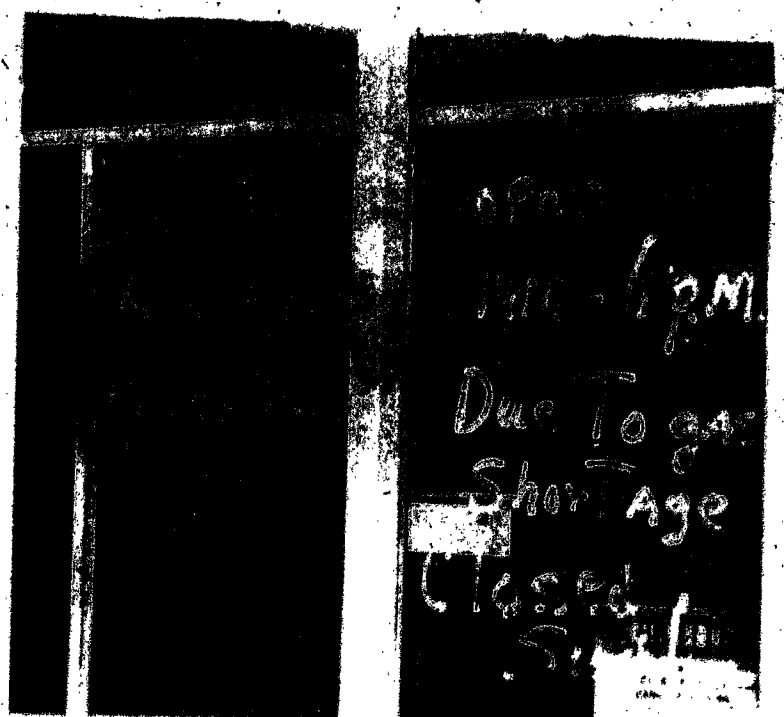

On a motion by City Commissioner Andre Arceneaux Monday night, Gex was instructed to investigate the situation and if it is legal, to draw up the necessary documents creating a civil service commission.

Although the motion carried unanimously, a final decision will not be made until the council meets June 6. Arceneaux also made a motion requesting that the council purchase a new fire truck in order to reduce the city's fire insurance rating from an eight to a seven. Arceneaux told the council that he had received verbal assurance from Kelly Turner of the State Rating Bureau that the rating would be reduced if an additional fire truck is purchased and if an additional fireman is hired.

Although Mayor Warren Carver at first objected to the motion, claiming that such a large expenditure should be made by the next administration, he finally voted in favor of the proposal and the motion was carried unanimously.

In other business, the council: -Rejected a $200 claim by contractor Virgil J. Rutledge on certain work Rutledge claims he performed under Operation Upturn. Former Upturn Administrator John McKenna told the council that he had never authorized the project.

-Agreed to pay the firm of Gex, Gex and Phillips $900 for additional legal work.

DUE TO the gasoline shortage, Garcia's Premier Service Station is forced to close on Sunday and has changed its hours. Related photo page 1A.

Civil Defense Holds Training Exercise

A Positional Training Exercise was held last Thursday night at the Bay St. Louis Civil Defense Headquarters.

City officials, as well as heads of city departments, were given hypothetical disasters and the proper methods of dealing with these disasters were discussed.

The exercise was designed to:

1. Determine as accurately as possible the existing capabilities and resources of Bay St. Louis to respond to these types of emergencies.
2. Identify the actions that can be practically taken to increase these capabilities and 3. Using the combined knowledge and judgment of our city government officials and the University Extension Department, develop a sequential plan of action of improving the capability within Bay St. Louis to respond to emergency and disaster situations, and work out a program of operational assistance.

The program was conducted by the University of Mississippi Civil Defense University Extension Program Co-ordinator, Jim Moore and Sid Williams representative from the State Civil Defense Office, Jackson.

County School Board Approves Staff Members

Staff members and a music instructor for Charles B. Murphy Elementary School were approved by Hancock County School trustees at a Tuesday morning meeting.

The following list as submitted by Principal James Baldree was accepted by motion of the board: as bus drivers, Mr. Nathaniel Acker, Miss Barbara McArthur and Mrs. Dorothy Lee; Mrs. Mae Schulze, lunchroom manager; as lunchroom workers, Mmes. Lucille Bello and Willie Mae Keys.

The board also approved Marcel LaNasa for the position of music instructor and Edward Leonard as science teacher at Hancock North Central School. Leonard had been previously accepted but his name was inadvertently not included in the minutes of a prior meeting.

In other action, the board sanctioned the use of a county school bus to transport more than 80 4-H club members to Harrison Central High School June 5 and Mississippi State University June 12, the latter event a state 4-H Congress. E. E. Mrs. Arnette Giles, teacher at the Clermont Harbor School for Special Education, read a letter from the school's staff addressed to the county board, expressing appreciation for past courtesies to the children from Superintendent Kenneth McCarty and the board. The letter re-capped the past year's progress and accomplishments of the children as well as listing equipment and training aids now available at the school.

Mrs. Giles recommended for the board's consideration the appointment of August Scaffidi, Jr. as special education teacher for the trainable class when the entire school is integrated into the county system this fall. Scaffidi, who is qualified as a special education teacher she stated, has the endorsement for the position of all three teachers at the Clermont Harbor school.

In conclusion, Mrs. Giles requested that the school be known as the McCarty-Ortite Children's Center for Special Education, in honor of the current superintendent and the late Edward Ortite, both of whom were among the first founders of the Hancock County special education school.

Following the business meeting school trustees met with members of the executive advisory council on Title III-ESEA to discuss the advisability of continuing the program for the 1973-74 session.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

Time passes with alarming rapidity, as everyone knows; it is almost impossible to believe that so many things have happened in the world in less than three-quarters of a century.

We were reminded of this last Monday, when aviation observed the forty-sixth anniversary of the first flight of an airplane across the Atlantic. On May 21st, 1927, Charles ("Slim") Lindbergh landed his Spirit of St. Louis in Paris after a ten hour crossing of the ocean. Today seventeen transatlantic airlines fly planes back and forth across the Atlantic, and an overseas trip is about as commonplace as a ride on a train between New York and Philadelphia used to be. Forty six years ago a howling mob greeted Lindbergh when he asked, "Am I in Paris?"; today few people even turn their heads when a supersonic jet passes through the sky.

We recall a couple of incidents which illustrate the changes that have occurred in aviation in just forty-six years. First, we covered the take-off of the first gliders that were used to carry the U.S. mail. This was in New York at an immense open field, now the site of Kennedy Airport. Two gliders were loaded with a few bags of mail and attached by a long cable to a biplane, which succeeded in lifting them off the ground and a few hundred feet into the air. Slowly and very carefully they navigated down the coast to the outskirts of Philadelphia, where one glider was cut loose and landed; the plane and the other glider continued their flight to Washington and landed there. The first airmail in history had been delivered! The time was about the same, from postoffice to postoffice, as it would have been by train. The Great Glider Service was never tried again.

The second incident was a couple of years later. We were in Washington and wanted to get to New York in a hurry, so we booked a flight on a regular, established airline. We were given a seat in an open six-passenger biplane and had a very bumpy and exciting flight to Newark, which was the New York office at that time.

Social Security Information

60 PERCENT OF ADULTS GETTING SOCIAL SECURITY ARE WOMEN
Sixty percent of adults getting monthly social security payments are women, according to Joseph D. Alfonso, social security representative in Gulfport.

"Twenty-three million adults are paid social security benefits," Mr. Alfonso said, "and 13.8 million are women. About 6 million women get monthly retirement benefits based on their own social security work records—30 times as many as in 1950."

About half of the women getting retirement checks became eligible on their husbands' earnings records, he said.

A working woman can retire at 62 and get reduced monthly payments on her own record. Or she can wait until she's 65 and get full benefits as well as Medicare coverage.

"But if she's entitled to higher benefits as a wife or a widow on her husband's record," Mr. Alfonso said, "she'll be paid the higher amount."

"The working woman has both disability and survivors protection from social security," he said. "If she becomes severely disabled and cannot work for a year or more, she and her family may be eligible for monthly cash payments from social security. And starting July 1, 1973, workers of any age who've been getting social security disability payments for 2 years or more may be eligible for Medicare."

About 400,000 children get monthly social security payments based on their mother's work records, he said. "A child who is entitled to monthly social security payments based on the mother's record can get them even though the child's father may be working at a full-time job," Mr. Alfonso said.

York terminus of the line at that time. Looking back to those early days of commercial aviation, it is difficult to realize that they were actually so recent. Today everybody flies, and even small communities like our own have their airfields with connections with any city in the world. In 1935 we knew a man who had his own plane, which he used for business trips around the country; today, less than forty years later, thousands of people fly their own planes, and private aviation is Big Business.

4-H's Create Own Space in Home Environment Program

4-H'ers in the 4-H home environment program create comfortable and pleasing living spaces. These 4-H'ers built a bookshelf and a mobile to improve the total environment of their rumpus room.

SPECIAL - What's in a name? Plenty, think leaders working with 4-H members in the area of home furnishings, equipment and housing.

The 4-H home improvement program has been renamed 4-H home environment. In 1972, Sponsored by The S&H Foundation, Inc., new dimensions and activities have been added through the efforts of personnel of the Cooperative Extension Service and National 4-H Service Committee.

The contemporary 4-H home environment program provides numerous opportunities for creative expression. 4-H'ers in the program are encouraged to plan their home surroundings much as they would the total environment - for beauty, comfort, health, safety and adequate space. Using the principles of basic design - form, scale, patterns and texture, color and light - the 178,000 young people in the 4-H home environment program create living spaces that are functional, comfortable and aesthetically pleasing.

Boys Can Take Part, Too

The revised program is also designed to get boys interested and involved in improving their homes. 4-H'ers from low income, minority and migrant families are also encouraged to participate and help create pleasing home environments.

Besides the satisfaction at helping to make one's home a more enjoyable and pleasing place to live, 4-H'ers in the home environment program can gain recognition in other ways.

The S&H Foundation, Inc. provides incentive and other recognition awards for county, state and national winners in the program.

Medals of honor are awarded county winners, while one winner in each state receives an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30. At the 4-H event, six national winners receive $700 scholarships provided by The S&H Foundation, Inc.

For more information about the 4-H home environment program, contact the county extension office.

INOCULATION OF SOYBEANS
If there is any doubt about the need for inoculation of soybean planting seed, go ahead and inoculate. The cost is small compared to the benefits. Land shifted from cotton to soybeans that has not been planted to beans within three years will need inoculant. Soybeans planted on new land will also need inoculation.

Prolonged flooding may have an adverse effect on soybean rhizobia already present in soils planted previously to soybeans.

Some inoculant formulations contain chemicals like molybdenum and fungicides. Molybdate salts and some fungicides can injure the inoculant. The safest approach is to buy the inoculant separately and not risk the possibility of poor nodulation. If molybdenum or fungicides are needed, they can be added separately in the hopper box.

LIME PASTURES
There are several reasons for applying lime to increase pasture profits. Pasture soils are becoming more acid. Farmers use twice as much nitrogen fertilizer now as they did five years ago. It takes two pounds of lime to neutralize the acid formed by one pound of nitrogen fertilizer.

Another reason for using lime to neutralize acid soils is that legumes are needed for top quality pastures. Legumes require a higher pH than plain grass pastures. Many clover varieties require a pH of 6.0 or above, but most soils have a pH of less than 5.5.

Any time spreading equipment can get over fields is a good time to apply lime, but summer is ideal. Generally at this time plenty of spreader trucks are available and lime is plentiful.

Get lime spread now, so it can go to work. If you want to improve the quality of pastures and increase profits, don't put off liming this summer. Make plans now.

Forestry Report

Yard trees are an important feature of home landscaping. In fact, trees may be the most expensive item on your lawn. Even with a tree you get in the woods at no initial cost, there is the element of time which adds to the tree's value.

Trees require some care, such as proper planting, fertilizing, watering, pruning and protection. However, in return for a comparatively small amount of your attention, they add significantly to the beauty of a home. The shade furnished is certainly pleasant and is a definite economic asset during summer when air conditioning is used in the home.

Proper planting is very important to give the tree a good start. The hole you dig should be larger than just barely enough to cram in the roots, as they will straighten out more with time. Balled and barked trees need a hole one to two feet larger than the ball. The hole should be deep enough for the tree to stand at approximately the same level as it was in the woods or nursery.

Poor soil should be improved with top soil or peat moss for best results. A slight depression around each tree will aid in watering.

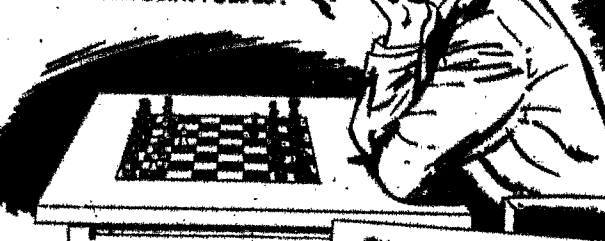

Some trees need to be staked for proper growth. This is best done before you put the soil back. A stake is driven close to the tree and a loop of wire attached around the tree to guide direction of growth. To prevent bark cutting, a loop of garden hose around the wire is useful.

In conclusion, when planning your yard, consider trees as the valuable landscaping assets that they truly are. For further tree planting and selection advice contact County Forester Michael Healey at 498-4444.

Accepted For U.S. Youth Regatta

Bay St. Louis has been accepted as a host for the 1973 United States Youth Regatta. The regatta is to be held June 15-18 at the Sheridan Shore Yacht Club, Wilmette, Illinois.

The Youth Championship at Wilmette is specifically intended to attract the junior sailors in this country who may have the potential to represent the United States in future international competitions. The contestants have been selected on the basis of their racing record for the past three years. This regatta is a special event for the winners will receive not only a national trophy, they will also be sent to the 1973 International Yacht Racing Union, which will be held at Troia, Portugal, August 11-17.

Regatta will be held in 1973 and 1974. The U.S. Youth Championship will also be held in these two years. The 1973 is the 14-foot planing watercraft with trapeze and spinnaker recently selected by the IYRU as an Olympic boat for 1976. The Laser is a fast, high-performance single-handed "off-the-beach" craft with daggerboard, which was given International status by IYRU in 1972. Stiefel has elected to compete in the Laser.

The winners of the two categories will travel to Portugal in early August with Olympic Gold Medalist Bill Bantson as their team manager, at the expense of the United States International Sailing Association.

The Sheridan Shore Yacht Club, apart from being one of the most active racing yacht clubs in the country, was selected for the event due to its central location, variety of weather conditions, open water, and adjoining large beach and parking which in conjunction with the Wilmette Park District provides beach launching and vehicle parking, water, shower, plus softball and tennis for the contestants during the evening hours.

Robert L. Johnstone, regatta chairman for the Youth Championship, is a former Sears Cup finalist himself years ago, and today is a top-flight one-design sailor. He is confident that this type of regatta will not only stimulate interest in IYRU Olympic class boats, but will improve future United States performance in international competition in general, and the 1976 Olympics in particular.

Johnstone feels that so many young people are good sailors but never have the opportunity to compete in large national competition, much less international. The purpose of this regatta is to give these young sailors an incentive to get out of their back yard and gain confidence to stand up and do well in a large national championship.

Red Cross Makes Fund Appeal

The Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross is making an appeal to the local and county residents for contributions to disaster funds used for victims of the Mississippi flood waters. In a letter to chapter chairman, National Red Cross Chairman Frank Stanton pointed out that financial demands on Red Cross for assistance to disaster victims have increased. "Indeed, if severe weather conditions continue to afflict the country, disaster victims will need the kind of immediate emergency assistance which only the Red Cross can provide, which we feel obligated to provide and which the American people expect us to provide," he continued.

As of May 11, a total of 6,777 families in Southeastern Area had registered for assistance following flooding and tornadoes which have affected every state in the area at some time since mid-March. Commitments total $1,008,753. An additional 3,100 families are expected to register, and it is estimated by the organization that Southeastern Area disaster expenditures will go over $1,640,000.

Many communities on the Mississippi River and its tributaries from Iowa to Louisiana have been flooded since early March. Along the lower sections of the river in Louisiana and Mississippi, Red Cross continues to aid hundreds of families whose homes will remain under water for some weeks. Mobile canteens are continuing to feed levee workers and flood victims in many areas, Stanton said.

According to Mrs. L.L. Kergosien, executive secretary, the Hancock County chapter has been asked to fill a quota of $300. A fund has been set up at the Gulf National Bank where donations may be sent in care of the American Red Cross, P.O. Box 149, Bay St. Louis, Miss., 39520 with a notation designating it for the Mississippi Disaster Flood Fund.

Mrs. D. Hoppert has returned from Denver, Colorado where she attended the funeral of her fourteen-year-old nephew, Brett Stannard.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Temple were Mr. Temple's mother, Mrs. Bernice Temple, and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. U. Arcemont of Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hobson, natives of Mississippi, are happy to be back again and are now residing with their two children, Jud and Kim, on Diamondhead Drive. Mr. Hobson is a pilot with Diamondhead and was recently transferred from New Jersey.

IT PAYS TO USE ECHO CLASSIFIEDS

The summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rawls of Poplarville, Miss. is nearing completion.

Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Kibling of Houston, Texas have started construction of their permanent residence at Diamondhead.

Three Fail To Appear In Court

Harrison county authorities are still looking for a Pass Christian man and woman wanted in Hancock County for failure to appear in court on a previous narcotics arrest.

William Pursley, Jr., of Bay St. Louis who was arrested with the Pass Christian couple, was returned to Hancock County jail Tuesday to begin serving a six month sentence for failing to appear in court on the original charge.

Steve Johnson, Rebecca Campbell and Pursley were arrested in Bay St. Louis April 23 by sheriff's deputies. The Campbell woman and Pursley were charged with possession of marijuana and possession of paraphernalia. Johnson, who is the operator of the Far Inn in Pass Christian, was charged with possession of about six pounds of marijuana and a large quantity of paraphernalia, as well as reckless driving.

Released on bail, the three were scheduled to appear for a hearing May 21 before Justice of the Peace Donald Corr. When none of the three appeared, Judge Corr imposed fines on each of $1,000 for possession of marijuana, $500 for possession of paraphernalia and six months in the county jail.

Warrants for the arrest of Miss Campbell and Johnson are still outstanding.

Senior Citizens Happenings

In celebration of Senior Citizen's Month about 130 seniors got together last Wednesday for a real old-fashioned picnic in Lakeshore. It turned out to be one of those beautiful days that take you right back to the good old days when the best entertainment was a real all-day family outing, and it was a reminder that some of the best things in life are still free—trees, sunshine, and good fellowship. Everyone seemed to have a good time...there were lots of games like ring toss, all day music, and singing with Pip Johnson's band, and Vivian Singleton even brought her fishing pole (but she didn't catch anything except sunshine). Some of our kind benefactors who helped make this a really great occasion included John Rutherford, who donated the soft drinks; John Longo, who donated the chocolate cakes; and Christ Episcopal Church, Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, and Charles and Ramona's Bar, who all donated ice. The County Supervisors provided the portalettes; the Civil Defense brought a generator and water containers; and the city of Bay St. Louis provided the trucks to carry everything. This was a real community effort to honor our Senior Citizens.

This month's social in Pearlington featured a craft session of making fun-film flowers, demonstrated by Mrs. Margaret Keene. Everyone enjoyed the cakes baked by Mrs. Carl Bradford, Mrs. Clarence Molden, and Mrs. Robert Duhon. The Pearlington Seniors are planning a rummage sale to be held this Saturday, May 26, at the Pearlington Community Center, to benefit the Senior Recreation Program.

At the Monday social this week Mrs. Fred Fisher presented a skit, entitled a "Fairy Tale," about the new RSVP Program, which will coordinate volunteer activities in the community which use senior volunteers. She emphasized that transportation will be provided for anyone who needs it, and she urged any seniors who are interested in volunteering to work in any community project to call RSVP at 467-9204 for more information.

There will be no Monday socials during the month of June until the new air conditioning is installed at the Center. All the afternoon classes will continue as scheduled, and everyone will be notified as soon as the air conditioning is ready.

Mississippi Power Relates Energy Crisis To Coast

by Susan Irby
Echo News Director
Should Mississippi Power Company have to cease using natural gas for use in its boilers, as much as $11 million could be needed to adapt to the burning of expensive fuel oil on a permanent basis, V.J. Daniel, Jr., president of Mississippi Power Company told a noon press conference Monday.

The cost for this adaptation and the month-to-month burning of the low-sulfur oil would eventually be passed on to the consumer in increased billings, he added. The difference in price for the change, if needed, will be some 20 cents per kilowatt hour.

Monday's conference was called by MPC in order to orient consumers with the fuel crisis as it affects the Coast. Daniel said that on January 7, 1973, the Federal Power Commission ordered United Gas Pipeline Company, MPC's supplier, to show cause why gas service should not be abandoned for large boiler use. MPC has intervened in these proceedings, and hearings will begin on June 18.

Natural gas is burned in the boilers of MPC's generating plants, converting water to steam, which turns the turbo-generators to produce electric power. As compared to other fossil fuels, it is the cleanest, most convenient fuel to use and has been relatively cheap. In recent years, it has provided one-third of this country's energy, including one-quarter of its electricity.

Natural gas requires little investment in handling equipment and produces no fly ash or other pollutants. "As environmental controls tightened," Daniels said, "the demand for natural gas increased because it solved the problem most economically.

Now, natural gas is in increasingly short supply and available gas has from time to time been restricted to non-industrial uses."

Daniel said that during this past winter, MPC received about 40 percent of the amount contracted for and it is projected that only 38 percent will be received this summer.

Harry Bell, vice-president of engineering and operations at MPC, attributed the gradual reduction to a fast dwindling supply. The gas is stored during the summer to meet winter requirements which necessitates the reduction of use in the summer by the supplier, he said.

Coal, currently the cheapest fuel available for existing steam-electric generating units, is in the long run due to environmental controls, more expensive than oil because of processes required to remove pollutants. Adaptation of facilities to oil rather than coal is also less expensive, Daniel said.

Daniel talked briefly about the pending decision in the Chancery Court of Hinds County on MPC's retail rate increase request. The increase which averaged 4.2 percent was put into effect under bond on July 1, 1972. Should the Chancery Court deny the request, MPC plans to take the matter to the State Supreme Court.

After all appeal methods are exhausted, Daniel said, the increase and interest will be directly refunded to each individual consumer.

"While rising fuel costs have been largely offset by the operation of the fuel clause, our recent rate increases have been necessary because we have had to greatly expand our electric system during a period when inflation is intense and the cost of construction and money are at the highest point in our history," Daniel said.

Explaining the fuel adjustment clause and the new rate hike, Daniel said that many customers unfortunately felt that their high bills last summer were due to the new rate when it was primarily increased usage.

"This summer, the fuel adjustment will be about twice the amount shown for the same kilowatt hour usage," he said.

Tracing the company's pattern of new construction since 1950, Daniel said MPC must continue to raise money to build facilities so they can fulfill their obligation to the public to supply electricity.

"We can't wait until the price of money or cost of construction is just right because it takes at least six years to plan and build a new fossil fired generating plant. And our financial standing must be solid so that investors will continue to let us use their money to build these facilities."

Daniel also traced MPC's research program with particular emphasis being placed on finding better methods of using available domestic fuels. Of these, the most prominent is solvent refining which involves grinding coal, dissolving it, filtering out ash and sulphur, and reconstituting the fuel either as a hot liquid or a brittle solid.

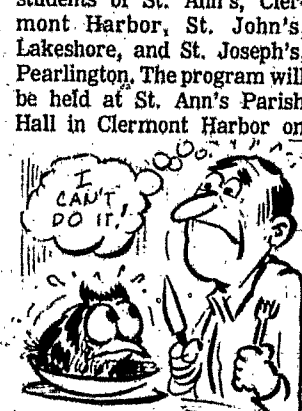

YOU CAN'T GET TOO MUCH practice when you're going to be in two shows, Apache seems to be saying as he sails over a jump at the Hancock County Fairgrounds. The young gelding, owned and trained by Terry Bounds of Bay St. Louis, will be ridden in the Pony Club sponsored Open English Horse Show coming up Saturday at 4 p.m. at the fairgrounds, as well as in the 4-H Club sponsored Western Show the same evening. The Saturday event marks the first English equitation show to be presented in Hancock County, and is open to young riders 18-years-old and under. Winners in the 4-H Show will qualify for state competitions next month. Both shows are open to the general public free of charge.

Religion Summer School Planned

A summer religion program will be conducted jointly by the teachers and grade-school students of St. Ann's, Clermont Harbor, St. John's, Lakeshore, and St. Joseph's, Pearlinton. The program will be held at St. Ann's Parish Hall in Clermont Harbor on Lower Bay Road for two weeks, Monday through Friday. Classes will begin on May 28 and close June 8.

Sister Daniel Elizabeth, principal of the schools of religion, announces that plans have been made for many interesting types of activities during the program.

Parents will provide transportation for the children who attended grades 1 through 8 last year in Gulfview and Murphy Schools. The teaching staff will include parents from the three parishes, teenagers, and volunteers from Bay St. Louis, New Orleans, and Gulfport.

General Election Must Be Held

City Commissioner William Frisbie told the Echo Tuesday that his office has received several complaints regarding the necessity of the general election on June 5. "Many Bay residents are claiming that only the primary is necessary to elect a mayor and two commissioners and this is not so," Frisbie emphasized.

Frisbie, who also serves as city clerk and is a Republican mayoral candidate in the general election, provided the following memorandum from Secretary of State Heber Ladner regarding the legality of primaries:

MUNICIPAL CLERKS

This office is receiving requests for commissions for those nominated in the municipal primaries. Please note the following:

Commissions cannot be issued on the basis of primary elections. Commissions will be issued on the basis of the general election which must be held June 5, 1973. There is no authority in law for dispensing with or not holding the general election even though those nominated in the primaries are unopposed in the general election. The general election must be held as required by law (Section 3374-65, Mississippi Code, 1942).

Please refer to Sections 3152 and 3374-63 of the Mississippi Code, 1942, as to the primary elections and to Sections 3374-62 and 3374-65 as to the general election. The last sentence of Section 3374-65 requires that the Municipal Election Commission certify the names of those elected in the general election to the Secretary of State within five days following the election. Only the names of those elected and their respective offices need to appear in the Certificate of Election by the Commission.

Rebuilding Begins In Managua

By William G. Gaudet
Managua, Nicaragua -- At Las Mercedes, the international airport for Managua, no signs say visitors not wanted, but those who venture to that earthquake ravaged city should be fully aware of what they will encounter.

Business of course can be accomplished, but by no one's definition can it be considered easy and when the visitor has left he is fully cognizant that much of his time has been involved in untangling and making some sense out of the weirdest invention Rube Goldberg ever created.

By no means is it as difficult today as it was during the first days after the earthquake when newsmen, radio announcers and television reporters came on the scene. Had it not been for Wesley Stewart, the Public Affairs officer of the U.S. Embassy and Press Attache John Barton, it would have been even more difficult.

The Stewart and Barton homes miraculously escaped any serious damage and the two estimate that in the days following the earthquake more than 150 members of the news media were given makeshift accommodations and food and water to keep them going.

Managua now does have some electricity, potable water and limited telephone service and taxis. The Hotel Managua Intercontinental has now opened its doors, but the service is limited. Only one floor with 45 rooms is available, and when I was there the hotel offered no air conditioning, no hot water, no elevator service, no room service, and only a very limited food menu.

Each day it gets somewhat better and perhaps by the time this is printed, the Intercontinental well may be offering other services. Other hotels such as the Estrella have taken over private residences and have rooms for rent and a few others have done the same thing. Problem is finding where they are located.

Least affected of all were the young industries which had been developing in Managua since the inception of the Central American Common Market. Most of these were located on the road leading from Managua to Las Mercedes International Airport. And this section suffered comparatively little damage. Estimates are that more than 85 percent of the factories suffered no damage and the remaining 15 percent only minor damage. The industrial side of Managua now is operating in excess of 90 percent of what it was before the earthquake.

The retail commercial outlets, virtually all of which were located in downtown Managua, were leveled. However, many of the retail outlets, such as Sears, have temporary operations on the road to the airport. This is where most of the retail outlets -- drug stores, hardware stores, music stores, groceries -- and the like have temporary headquarters.

One interesting sidelight was that in Guatemala, after my visit to Managua, I quite by accident met a Dallas, Texas couple who had been to Managua to visit a Central American Mission. They told me they had never seen such a demand for Bibles. Bibles were brought in from the United States, from El Salvador, Honduras and Costa Rica and at this moment a Bible is almost impossible to obtain.

PERHAPS THE GREATEST change of all has occurred at Masaya. Before the earthquake Masaya had a population of less than 15,000. Today Masaya has a population in excess of 50,000. Most big national and foreign businesses have located there including First National City Bank of New York, Bank of America, various insurance companies and scores of others. Telephone connections are possible to Masaya, but it is easier to drive the 80 kilometers than try and get through on the telephone.

One of the saddest post-earthquake developments revolves around those from other countries who had relatives living in Managua and from whom they have heard nothing. So many have fled to Granada, Leon, Matagalpa, Tipitapa, Chinandega and scores of other towns and villages that it is almost an impossible task to locate them. Various agencies such as the Social Security and the Red Cross are trying to establish a master list but it will take months and months before it is even half complete.

Currently the biggest question being asked is when will the government give the official okay to begin rebuilding back in the destroyed section. It is this writer's opinion that no such permission will be granted until all buildings that have to come down have been demolished and after the first of June, come. Authorities are expecting some settling of the ground and this is extremely plausible.

Problem is what should come down. The new Fuerzas y Luz building, on the perimeter outside the destroyed section and not far from the Hotel Intercontinental looks perfect to the eye. Yet Dr. Luis Manuel DeBayle, President of the Empresa, told me that the building would have to come down.

Fortunately for Nicaragua,

Managua was the financial and government center, but it was not the economic heart -- other than retail establishments -- of the country. Big money earners like sugar, coffee, cotton, and livestock all come from areas which were not touched by the earthquake.

Problem here is that all the brokers, exporters and others who handled the shipment of these goods had offices in downtown Managua and now they are scattered over many areas. This means then that the movement of goods, both at the export and import level, will not move nearly as rapidly as was the case before the earthquake.

Estimates of actual damage range from a low of $400,000,000 to one billion dollars. Earthquake insurance was available at reasonable costs, but insurance men say that only a comparatively few commercial business establishments and a few residents actually had such insurance. THIS MEANS THAT rebuilding at the private level is bound to move slowly. Problem for the Nicaraguans is that the government has no disaster loan agency such as the SBA, which proved to be such a help in Camille and other disaster stricken areas in the United States. This is not because the government would not like to make available loans at low interest rates - the government simply is not in a position to do so. Grants from foreign governments and donations from private firms and individuals will do much to alleviate this, but help is needed on such a massive scale that years will pass before a visitor will be able to notice any real noticeable change in Managua.

Hardest hit, of course, was the developing middle class. Many of these had homes in downtown Managua or on the perimeter outside the main business district and over 85 percent of these homes either were totally destroyed or damaged to a great extent. Make no mistake about one point - the Nicaraguans are working and they are trying with full dedication to overcome the great tragedy that has befallen them. And despite the tremendous odds that they now face, they will make this comeback and in the doing they will be a stronger and more self-reliant nation than ever before in their entire history. Cry not weep not for them, but help in any way possible. From what this writer observed, they truly are deserving of this help from those on the outside who are more fortunate.

For economical air conditioning —

Fan setting: Operate as you like best. "Auto" gives better humidity control and economy. "On" gives more uniform air motion, sound level and temperature.

Away from home: Set unit at 5° to 10° above normal setting with fan on "Auto" for mildew protection and quick comfort when you return.

Filters: Replace frequently. Clogged filters make unit work harder and cause higher operating costs.

Outdoor section: Keep clear of plants and obstructions.

Return air grill: Don't block air flow with furniture or drapes.

Windows and doors: Shut out heat from the sun with drapes or outside shading.

Insulation: Adequate insulation and proper attic ventilation will result in lower operating costs.

MR. AND MRS. DANNY MINCHEW

Minchew-Breazeale

Miss Sharon Ann Breazeale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene B. Breazeale of Kiln, and Danny Ray Minchew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Minchew Sr. of Bay St. Louis, were united in marriage April 28 at a Nuptial Mass at Annunciation Church, Kiln.

Rev. Pierre Hissey performed the double ring ceremony. Eugene Breazeale, brother of the bride, and Terry Swilley, Kiln, served as altar boys.

Nuptial music was presented by Sister Ursula of Annunciation Parish.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an antebellum style Chantilly lace gown. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a square neckline and sheer Bishop sleeves; sequins and pearls accented the bodice and sleeves. The tiered bouffant skirt swept into a cathedral length train. Her elbow length veil of illusion was attached to a double bow of Chantilly lace blossoms sprinkled with pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white rose buds and baby's breath interspersed with bridal satin ribbon.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her cousin, Miss Debra Sue Duffy of Newark, Ohio. Bridesmaids were Misses Mary Ellen Minchew, sister of the groom, and Phyllis Ann Breazeale, sister of the bride. Miss Margie West, Long Beach, Miss., cousin of the bride, was flower girl and Todd Holden served as ring bearer.

Buddy Holmes attended the groom as best man. Ushers were Frank A. Minchew Jr. and David Minchew, brothers of the groom, Joe Richardson Jr. and Randolph Carver, uncle of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Jourdan River Shores Clubhouse, Kiln. Upon their return from a trip to Florida, the couple will reside at Irish Hill in Biloxi. Out of town guests were Mrs. Lena Breazeale, Mrs. George Logan and daughters, Yazoo City, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cox and son Brad, Minden, La., Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry West and daughters, all of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Norveu and E. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white chiffon gown fashioned with long lace sleeves and ruffled bodice. Her short veil of illusion fell from a wreath of flowers and she carried a bouquet of white daisies centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Marian Arable attended her sister as matron of honor. Miss Martha East, cousin of the groom, was maid of honor; and Miss Tammy Ann Jeanfreau, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid.

Attending the groom as best man was Lollie C. Bilbo Jr., Groomsman were Louis Prendergast Jr., cousin of the groom, and Billy Joe Parker.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jeanfreau Jr., 505 Spanish Acres Drive.

The bride's table, overlaid with a white cloth, was centered with a three-tiered cake trimmed in white and silver leaves. Fern completed the table decorations.

The mother of the bride chose for the occasion a navy blue dress with white trim and a corsage of white carnations.

The mother-of-the-groom wore a formal length pink and white dress with long lace cape. A white orchid corsage completed her ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeanfreau are making their home at 774 Old Spanish Trail.

Another week has passed with no rain. Perfect for fishing but strong winds predominated which hindered fishing, plus high tides. Saturday was the first day the tide fell in the afternoon. The tides have a lot to do with perch and bass fishing, floundering and soft crabbing. They must be low for best results. However flounders are caught more effectively when the tide is rising after being low.

Frogging is effected by too high tides. They too are caught on low tides when they are on the fly pads or grass. Easier to see.

For those who don't know how to catch frogs, all that is needed is a headlight, a frog gig or hand grabber and a black to put them in. The frogs are caught in road-side ditches or mostly in ponds and lakes where a boat is needed. It's fun to get them and it's more fun eating frog legs.

Bought a pound of shrimp for $1.95 a pound. Isn't that something? We old birds bought shrimp for 5 cents a pound. Those were the happy days. At $1.95 per pound they are too precious to eat and too expensive to use them for fish bait. No wonder folks are going to fly fishing, trolling and casting.

Speaking of fly fishing, if you intend to purchase a fly rod get a 9-foot rod. Ask a fly fisherman which is the best fly line to use. A 9-foot rod goes for more flexibility. Use a light weight reel which is easier on the wrist. Practice in your own yard. Practice makes perfect in any sport.

Tried most of our bayous and rivers the past couple of weeks. Can't understand why Bayou LaCroix, Four Dollar Bayou and Double Bayou still remain dirty. Too dirty to fish in.

Went with Alden Mauffray to White's Bayou Sunday and caught some nice bass and perch on the fly rod. Pate's Bayous is also clear. Bayou Coward is clear in spots and mostly at the head. Fishing in Pearl River and its tributaries, Black Bayou, Mills Bayou, Johnson Pass, etc. is still off the record. They probably won't clear up for the next two months. Giving this information for those who want to go fresh water fishing.

Wop Glover was over Saturday mingling with friends. Expects to do some fresh water fishing soon. He doesn't fish when the hunting
